FROM THE TERRIFIC
WIND

TIDE PUSHED UP 2 1/2 FEET ABOVE
THE NORMAL FLOW

Washington, July 27. — Miami, Fla., lashed since yesterday by a hurricane sweeping out of the tropics was temporarily practically isolated from telegraphic communication with northern points this morning.

Last reports during the night pictured the city swept by a terrific wind with some shipping endangered. Fear was expressed for the yacht Cinnabar with several Miami's aboard, which was due in yesterday from the Bahamas, but had not appeared up to last night.

Light craft in Miami harbor suffered from the storm. Two small tugs sank under the buffeting and two others were crushed to pieces by waves. A house boat, breaking its moorings, floated into the bay where it was taken in tow by a coast guard cutter. The wind reached a velocity of 80 miles an hour.

CENTER STORM AREA NOW 50 MILES NORTH OF MIAMI

Washington, July 27.—A gale of hurricane proportions is blowing in the vicinity of Jupiter Inlet, Fla., 50 miles north of Miami and a tide 2 1/2 feet higher than normal was reported from observers at the inlet today, the weather bureau here announced.

The center of the storm area apparently is off the Florida coast north of Miami, the weather bureau said. Miami itself probably has not suffered severe damage. The weather bureau received its usual morning report from Miami by radio, but it included only technical weather data. Had a disastrous storm broken over the Florida city, the report would have mentioned it, the bureau said.

Wire communication with Miami had not been established at 9:15 A. M.

The weather bureau has received no reports from its station at Nassau, Bahamas, for nearly 48 hours, strengthening fears that serious damage may have been done there when the hurricane passed nearby Sunday.

A noon storm warning broadcast from Arlington by the navy department for the weather bureau, said the storm, still moving slowly northward, was centered at that hour near Palm Beach, Fla.

$10,000,000 STORM DAMAGE IN PORTO RICO

Ponce, Porto Rico, July 27.—Damage caused by the hurricane which swept the southern coast of Porto Rico Friday will probably reach $10,000,000 when full destruction of the storm is known.

Trees and telegraph poles were uprooted, houses were overturned and rivers which were formerly small streams became roaring torrents overnight.

Many were left homeless throughout the district, having lost all their belongings. It is believed that 11 persons were drowned at Ponce, Guayama and other small coastal towns.

Telephone and electric lines were still down today in many areas. The damage to the cane fields and coffee crop is not yet known.

Railroad lines were undermined by the storm and railway bridges swept away in river floods in which many cattle and fowl were drowned.

NORTHEAST STORM WARNING ISSUED

New York, July 27.—A northeast storm warning was issued today by the United States weather bureau here.

The disturbance was described as part of the tropical storm already sweeping the Florida coast north of Titusville, Fla.

CONSIDERABLE PROPERTY DAMAGE NEAR MIAMI

New York, July 27.—Considerable property damage has been done by the storm which struck Florida in the vicinity of Miami yesterday, according to advices received by the navy communications bureau here today.

WESTBLADE FIRED AT POSSE AS THREE SHOOTERS SLEW HIM

CHARLES NYLAND, BARBER OF
GRAND MARAIS, MAY WIN
REWARD

CRAZED FARMER HAD KILLED 2
PATROLMEN IN ARGUMENT
OVER SIGN

Grand Marais, Minn., July 27. — (UP)—Life has resumed its normal course for the little fishing village of Tofte, which was stricken by tragedy Friday, when two of its citizens were killed. John Westblade, 50, a farmer, the killer, was shot dead Monday.

Before a bullet found its mark in his body, Westblade made one last gesture of defiance. He began firing at the posse of three men which ran upon him in a clump of bushes and his bullet whistled by one of them. Then their guns spoke in turn and he fell mortally wounded, dying almost instantly.

The possemen agreed that the bullet that ended Westblade's life was fired by Charles Nyland, of Grand Marais, a barber, who probably will receive the greater part of rewards totalling $2,500 which had been offered for Westblade.

With the farmer's death, three score men who had hunted him ceased their searching and citizens who feared the madman might attack some lonely farmhouse and slay again were calmed.

Westblade killed Sigurd Ide and Alvin Tofte, both of Tofte, in an argument over a "farm for sale" sign he refused to remove from along a state highway.

Andrew Westblade, of Cambridge, Minn., is expected to arrive at Tofte today to arrange for his brother's funeral. So far as is known, the Cambridge man was his only near relative.

Westblade was well fortified for a long gun battle and probably could not have been taken alive. On his person was found 200 rounds of ammunition and two weapons, a rifle and a revolver.

The farmer also had a cached food supply consisting principally of canned foods, in a swamp, and had prepared hidden sleeping quarters. It was learned that the day before the state highway patrolmen were killed, he visited Tofte and bought $40 worth of food supplies and ammunition.

Four other men residing near Tofte had received threatening letters from Westblade indicating that he had marked them for death.

In that city. The storm center, however, was reported nearby.

St. Petersburg, Fla., July 27. — Fourteen fishing boats were in danger of being swept out of the Gulf of Mexico this afternoon as a high sea and wind prevented them entering into Tampa Bay and safety.

Miami, Fla., July 27.—Mountainous seas are preventing rescue of the crew of 30 of the floundering Spanish ship Ansaldo San Giorgio Secondo off Hillsboro Light, according to a message to the Tropical Radio received here at noon.

The crew of the Ward line, Orizaba en route to New York from Havana, have been unable to get a line on board the Spanish vessel.

An S. O. S. message was received by the Tropical Radio from an unidentified ship 40 miles north of Miami. The ship in distress said the gale had reached 100 miles an hour proportions and was accompanied by rain and hail.

Damage estimated at $50,000 is reported to have been done in Nassau and the Bahamas by the tropical hurricane.

GOLD RUSH TO BLACK HILLS

STIRRING PERIOD OF HISTORY,
50 YEARS AGO, RE-ENACTED
IN PAGEANT

Custer, S. D., July 27.—(UP)—The gold rush to the Black Hills 50 years ago was re-enacted here today when old settlers, bewhiskered citizens, Indians and cow-punchers filled the streets of this little town on the first of a two-day celebration.

Tenderfeet in Palm Beach suits and Panama hats, tourists from almost every state in the Union formed part of the colorful throng which milled in the streets a half century after the famous days of '76.

The piece de resistance was a pageant staged by Black Hills towns in co-operation with many old timers who were among the first to join the trek to the hills following the discovery of dust by Horatio N. Ross in 1874. The rush did not become general until 1876.

Stage coach robberies, Indian attacks, the wide open dance hall and gambling houses were revived today in an effort to make Custer somewhat like the old Custer which gave color and background to the thrilling literature of the dime novel.

U. S. NEUTRAL IN THE MEXICAN CHURCH DISPUTE

DECIDES UPON HANDS OFF POL-ICY IN CATHOLIC-MEXICAN ARGUMENT

CHURCHES AND THEIR HOLDINGS
PROPERTY OF MEXICO
SINCE 1857

By LUDWIG DENNY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, July 27.—The United States government has decided upon a hands off policy toward the Catholic-Mexican dispute, which it considers an internal Mexican affair.

Unless religious property owned by an American, is confiscated in a discriminatory manner or in violation of Mexican law, this government considers it has no right to interfere.

In this connection officials pointed out today that the churches and their holdings in Mexico have been property of the nation since 1857. In cases of American ministers or priests expelled from Mexico, this government intends to confine itself as in the past in diplomatic attempts to mitigate the harshness of executing the law which concerns Mexico's right to pass and enforce such legislation.

Five thousand people with babies in their arms waited in and about the cathedral during the day until the time for the confirmation of their child could come.

Owing to the heat and exposure four babies, one not more than four days old, died in the sweltering crowd.

Dallas, Texas, July 27.—A young red headed lawyer, Dan Moody, today has eliminated America's first woman governor from the field of politics. In the face of defeat by about 100,000 votes, Governor Miriam A. Ferguson decided to retire from the race for the democratic nomination as governor of Texas.

This finally settled the contest between the governor and young Moody, who has sought the gubernatorial race on an "anti-Fergusonism" platform.

However, the woman governor will not resign until after a special session of the legislature in September. She called this special session yesterday in order to validate approximately $100,000,000 in road contracts.

INVESTIGATORS RUN AFOUL OF OBSTACLES

ILLINOIS PRIMARY PROBES MAY BE HANDICAPPED IN
INQUIRY

COUNSEL FOR TWO IMPORTANT
WITNESSES ADVISES THEY CAN REFUSE TO TESTIFY

By PAUL R. MALLON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Chicago, July 27.—The senate primary investigating committee today ran afoul of a series of obstacles, which threatened to interfere seriously with its purpose to reveal the full story of Illinois senatorial primary.

Counsel for Samuel Insull, public utilities magnate, and Allen Moore, chairman of the Smith campaign committee, have advised them that they can refuse to furnish information desired by the federal investigation.

Insull declined to admit how much money he gave the Crowe-Barrett faction here, which joined the campaign of Frank L. Smith, republican senatorial nominee, only a few weeks before the April primary.

Both consulted counsel before opening of the second day of the investigation and their counsel advised them, the United Press is informed, that they can refuse to reveal their full stories.

Insull takes the position that the Crowe-Barrett faction was not in the senatorial race and that hence their activities are not a fit subject for senatorial inquiry. Moore contends that the minor contributors to the Smith campaign demanded his confidence and he should be permitted to protect them against publicity.

While these two developments offered a serious blockade to the future course of the investigation, the committee moved to ascertain how much was spent by Senator William B. McKinley who was defeated by Smith for the republican nomination.

Persons in close touch with his campaign have estimated he spent anywhere from $260,000 to $1,000,000 and the committee called Hiram Green, his campaign manager, and J. Stipes, a down state McKinley leader, to furnish an accurate accounting of expenditures.

Telegraphic subpoenas were sent them last night to come to Chicago from their homes in Champaign, Ill.

According to best information now the republican and democratic senatorial races cost something over a half million dollars. Insull in all spent about $173,353. He gave all but $15,000 of that sum to help Smith and $15,000 to George Brennan, the democratic candidate. Smith spent in all $253,000 and Brennan $20,000. McKinley's total is expected to be ascertained from Green and Stipes.

A new batch of subpoenas was ordered by the committee this morning for additional witnesses.

Chicago, July 27.—Financing and organization of the unsuccessful campaign of Senator William B. McKinley for re-election, were subjected to inquiry today by the senate primary investigating committee.

Chester Willoughby, private secretary to McKinley, who handled about $50,000 for him, was recalled at opening of the second day of the federal investigation of the Illinois primary.

Willoughby said he had neglected to tell the committee yesterday that two Chicago headquarters were maintained for McKinley.

Chairman Reed manifested impatience with Willoughby's slight knowledge of the McKinley campaign, which he ran.

"Do you mean that you ran this campaign and yet knew nothing of what was going on?" Reed asked.

COUNTY BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS SET LEVY FOR 1926

THE REDUCTION OF $15,000 WILL
AMOUNT TO APPROXIMATE
LOWER RATE OF 1 MILL

RATE LAST YEAR, 19.05 MILLS;
BOARD ADOPTED BUDGET SYS-
TEM TO REDUCE OVERDRAFT

Systematic handling of their budget system since its inauguration in July, 1924, has resulted in the County Board of Commissioners being able to announce a reduction in the levy this year of $15,000 from that of 1925, which means a reduction in the tax rate for the county of approximately one mill. The tax rate for the last year was 19.05 mills.

The 1926 levy for Crow Wing county was set by the Board of Commissioners at their semi-annual meeting last week and made public this morning at the county auditor's office.

The corresponding levies for the two years as announced by the board are shown in the following tabulations:

	1926
General revenue fund.....	$ 77,000
Road and bridge fund.....	100,000
Bond interest fund.....	8,000
Sinking fund.....	35,000
Sanitarium fund.....	10,000
Poor fund.....	13,000
Total	$243,000

	1925
General revenue fund.....	$ 77,000
Road and bridge fund.....	113,000
Bond interest fund.....	10,000
Sinking fund.....	35,000
Sanitarium fund.....	10,000
Poor fund.....	12,000
Total	$258,000

In July, 1924, the Board went on a budget system at which time there was an overdraft on the road and bridge fund of $171,000 and in the general revenue fund an overdraft of $62,500. At the annual meeting in 1924 the Board adopted the budget system in handling county expenditures. As a result of that and other economies, the overdraft has been reduced so at the present time there is an overdraft on the road and bridge fund of $20,000 and the overdraft in the general fund has been reduced to approximately $11,000.

The present plan of the Board is that every Crow Wing county fund shall one year from now be on a cash basis.

The Board in reducing the overdraft in the road and bridge fund has kept up the county system of maintenance of roads and have carried forth new construction work so as to unite the various constructed segments of county roads into one system and so as to at all times receive the maximum amount of state aid, which amounts to approximately $20,000 each year.

GOV. GUNDERSON WILL NOT ATTEND G. O. P. CONFERENCE

Huron, S. D., July 27.—(UP)—Governor Carl Gunderson will not attend the republican conference to be held at Huron Friday. He has written a letter pointing out that he is to be present at the conference of governors at Cheyenne, Wyo., and later contemplates a trip through Yellowstone National park.

"Well, I was not around very much," said Willoughby.

Willoughby denied that McKinley had given any large donations to churches or public institutions.

"I think he only gave his usual amount that he gives every year," said the witness.

Reed questioned Willoughby at length on yearly donations by McKinley to institutions. The witness told of a donation to a college at Tuskegee, Ala., and said he had heard that McKinley gave $50,000 to Lincoln University, a Kentucky institution.

Willoughby said a Mr. Hill of the Kentucky University made speeches for McKinley during the campaign. "Isn't it a fact that Hill made the speeches because McKinley promised $50,000 for his university?"

"I don't know of any promises," Well, McKinley gave the money and Hill made the speeches?" "I've heard it."

Washington, July 27.—The United States government has decided upon a hands off policy toward the Catholic-Mexican dispute, which it considers an internal Mexican affair.

Unless religious property owned by an American, is confiscated in a discriminatory manner or in violation of Mexican law, this government considers it has no right to interfere.

In this connection officials pointed out today that the churches and their holdings in Mexico have been property of the nation since 1857. In cases of American ministers or priests expelled from Mexico, this government intends to confine itself as in the past in diplomatic attempts to mitigate the harshness of executing the law which concerns Mexico's right to pass and enforce such legislation.

LAST MASS AT CATHEDRAL FRIDAY

By A. W. FOLGER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Mexico City, July 27. — The last mass before Mexico's new religious laws go into effect will be held at the great cathedral here Friday. It is expected to bring out one of the largest crowds seen in Mexico's history.

Manwhile it was officially announced that 96,000 children have been confirmed in the cathedral since July 10.

Daily until the last mass, the cathedral will continue to receive the thousands of mothers and fathers, who bring their children to be confirmed. Four bishops are assisting Archbishop Moray Del Rio in the confirmation ceremonies. Yesterday he alone confirmed nearly 1,000 children in the morning, working until he was exhausted.

Five thousand people with babies in their arms waited in and about the cathedral during the day until the time for the confirmation of their child could come.

Owing to the heat and exposure four babies, one not more than four days old, died in the sweltering crowd.

DURKIN HAS EYES BLACKENED BY MATES RESENTING HIS TALK

Chicago, July 27.—(UP)—For the second time within two days Martin Durkin, Chicago gunman, convicted of the murder of the federal agent, was attacked by jail mates yesterday for alleged remarks concerning one of the assailants' sweetheart. Alertness of jail guards, who overpowered the attackers saved Durkin from injury.

Sunday the debonair killer had an eye blackened and his face was badly bruised by one of his fellow prisoners. The assault yesterday happened in the bull pen, the scene of Sunday's fracas.

GOV. MIRIAM FERGUSON DECIDES TO RETIRE FROM RACE

By S. A. BARKER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Dallas, Texas, July 27.—A young red headed lawyer, Dan Moody, today has eliminated America's first woman governor from the field of politics. In the face of defeat by about 100,000 votes, Governor Miriam A. Ferguson decided to retire from the race for the democratic nomination as governor of Texas.

This finally settled the contest between the governor and young Moody, who has sought the gubernatorial race on an "anti-Fergusonism" platform.

However, the woman governor will not resign until after a special session of the legislature in September. She called this special session yesterday in order to validate approximately $100,000,000 in road contracts.

OVER 200,000 AMERICAN MEN USE COSMETICS

Chicago, July 27.—(UP)—More than 200,000 American men use cosmetics secretly. And what's more the number of male users of rouge, lipstick and powder is increasing rapidly. Mrs. Ruth J. Maurer, New York beauty specialist, told an audience of women and three men, all beauty shop owners, in convention here today.

"STOP" SIGNAL AT RAILWAY CROSSINGS

LAW BEING ENFORCED AT WILL- MAR, FORTY ARE ARRESTED

Willmar, Minn., July 27.—(UP)—Sessions of the Willmar municipal court today had become just one procession after another of automobile drivers who didn't believe in signs.

Sheriff Peter Bonde's drive on violators of the motor vehicle laws that started Saturday evening has captured more than forty drivers, most of them on charges of failing to pause for "stop" signals at railroad crossings and others for speeding.

Twenty-three of the unlucky motorists appeared before Municipal Judge A. V. Forsberg on Monday and enriched the city treasury by pleading guilty and paying fines. Others appeared today.

Monterey, Calif., July 27.—(UP)—The investigation into the disappearance of Almee Semple McPherson, evangelist, today centered at Salinas, where Dennis Collins, garage attendant, reported he saw Kenneth Ormiston, missing radio operator of Angeles Temple, 10 days after the evangelist disappeared.

Ormiston, according to the story Collins told, was accompanied by a woman who resembled Mrs. McPherson.

INVESTIGATORS RUN AFOUL OF OBSTACLES

BE HANDICAPPED IN
INQUIRY

COUNSEL FOR TWO IMPORTANT
WITNESSES ADVISES THEY CAN REFUSE TO TESTIFY

By PAUL R. MALLON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Chicago, July 27.—The senate primary investigating committee today ran afoul of a series of obstacles, which threatened to interfere seriously with its purpose to reveal the full story of Illinois senatorial primary.

Counsel for Samuel Insull, public utilities magnate, and Allen Moore, chairman of the Smith campaign committee, have advised them that they can refuse to furnish information desired by the federal investigation.

Insull declined to admit how much money he gave the Crowe-Barrett faction here, which joined the campaign of Frank L. Smith, republican senatorial nominee, only a few weeks before the April primary.

Both consulted counsel before opening of the second day of the investigation and their counsel advised them, the United Press is informed, that they can refuse to reveal their full stories.

Insull takes the position that the Crowe-Barrett faction was not in the senatorial race and that hence their activities are not a fit subject for senatorial inquiry. Moore contends that the minor contributors to the Smith campaign demanded his confidence and he should be permitted to protect them against publicity.

While these two developments offered a serious blockade to the future course of the investigation, the committee moved to ascertain how much was spent by Senator William B. McKinley who was defeated by Smith for the republican nomination.

Persons in close touch with his campaign have estimated he spent anywhere from $260,000 to $1,000,000 and the committee called Hiram Green, his campaign manager, and J. Stipes, a down state McKinley leader, to furnish an accurate accounting of expenditures.

Telegraphic subpoenas were sent them last night to come to Chicago from their homes in Champaign, Ill.

According to best information now the republican and democratic senatorial races cost something over a half million dollars. Insull in all spent about $173,353. He gave all but $15,000 of that sum to help Smith and $15,000 to George Brennan, the democratic candidate. Smith spent in all $253,000 and Brennan $20,000. McKinley's total is expected to be ascertained from Green and Stipes.

A new batch of subpoenas was ordered by the committee this morning for additional witnesses.

Chicago, July 27.—Financing and organization of the unsuccessful campaign of Senator William B. McKinley for re-election, were subjected to inquiry today by the senate primary investigating committee.

Chester Willoughby, private secretary to McKinley, who handled about $50,000 for him, was recalled at opening of the second day of the federal investigation of the Illinois primary.

Willoughby said he had neglected to tell the committee yesterday that two Chicago headquarters were maintained for McKinley.

Chairman Reed manifested impatience with Willoughby's slight knowledge of the McKinley campaign, which he ran.

"Do you mean that you ran this campaign and yet knew nothing of what was going on?" Reed asked.

COUNTY BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS SET LEVY FOR 1926

THE REDUCTION OF $15,000 WILL
AMOUNT TO APPROXIMATE
LOWER RATE OF 1 MILL

RATE LAST YEAR, 19.05 MILLS;
BOARD ADOPTED BUDGET SYS-
TEM TO REDUCE OVERDRAFT

Systematic handling of their budget system since its inauguration in July, 1924, has resulted in the County Board of Commissioners being able to announce a reduction in the levy this year of $15,000 from that of 1925, which means a reduction in the tax rate for the county of approximately one mill. The tax rate for the last year was 19.05 mills.

The 1926 levy for Crow Wing county was set by the Board of Commissioners at their semi-annual meeting last week and made public this morning at the county auditor's office.

The corresponding levies for the two years as announced by the board are shown in the following tabulations:

	1926
General revenue fund.....	$ 77,000
Road and bridge fund.....	100,000
Bond interest fund.....	8,000
Sinking fund.....	35,000
Sanitarium fund.....	10,000
Poor fund.....	13,000
Total.....	$243,000

	1925
General revenue fund.....	$ 77,000
Road and bridge fund.....	113,000
Bond interest fund.....	10,000
Sinking fund.....	36,000
Sanitarium fund.....	10,000
Poor fund.....	12,000
Total.....	$258,000

In July, 1924, the Board went on a budget system at which time there was an overdraft on the road and bridge fund of $171,000 and in the general revenue fund an overdraft of $62,500. At the annual meeting in 1924 the Board adopted the budget system in handling county expenditures. As a result of that and other economies, the overdraft has been reduced so at the present time there is an overdraft on the road and bridge fund of $20,000 and the overdraft in the general fund has been reduced to approximately $11,000.

The present plan of the Board is that every Crow Wing county fund shall one year from now be on a cash basis.

The Board in reducing the overdraft in the road and bridge fund has kept up the county system of maintenance of roads and have carried forth new construction work so as to unite the various constructed segments of county roads into one system and so as to at all times receive the maximum amount of state aid, which amounts to approximately $20,000 each year.

GOV. GUNDERSON WILL NOT ATTEND G. O. P. CONFERENCE

Huron, S. D., July 27.—(UP)—Governor Carl Gunderson will not attend the republican conference to be held at Huron Friday. He has written a letter pointing out that he is to be present at the conference of governors at Cheyenne, Wyo., and later contemplates a trip through Yellowstone National park.

"Well, I was not around very much," said Willoughby.

Willoughby denied that McKinley had given any large donations to churches or public institutions.

"I think he only gave his usual amount that he gives every year," said the witness.

Reed questioned Willoughby at length on yearly donations by McKinley to institutions. The witness told of a donation to a college at Tuskegee, Ala., and said he had heard that McKinley gave $50,000 to Lincoln University, a Kentucky institution.

Willoughby said a Mr. Hill of the Kentucky University made speeches for McKinley during the campaign.

"Isn't it a fact that Hill made the speeches because McKinley promised $50,000 for his university?"

"I don't know of any promises."

Well, McKinley gave the money and Hill made the speeches?"

"I've heard it."

Summer Fashions Varied, Charming

Winsome Evening Wraps and Gowns in Many In- teresting Versions.

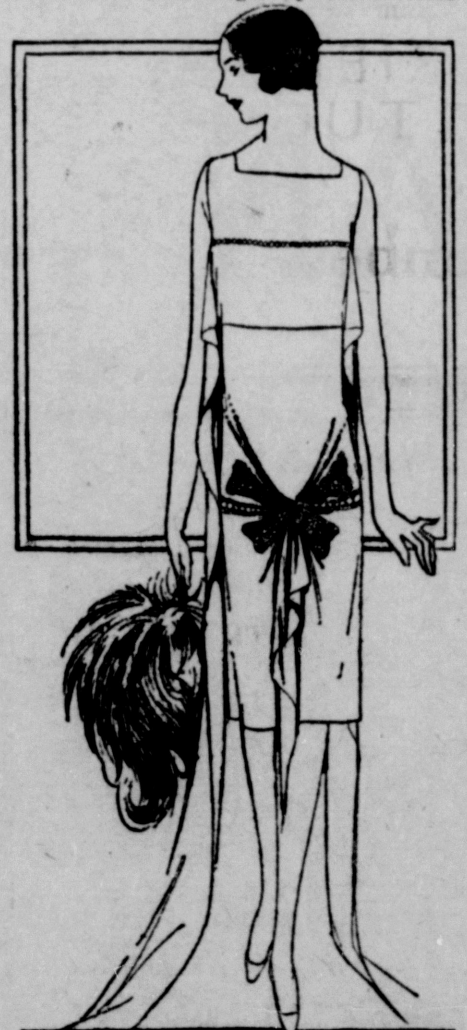

Social activities being directly influenced by the seasons, it followed that the unusually cool and backward period had the effect of causing the transfer indoors of many activities which might otherwise have been held in the open air. This has perhaps called forth, broadly speaking, more formal and elaborate costumes for occasions than is usually true. But fashions adapted to the needs of the season are nevertheless unusually pleasing, declares a fashion writer in the New York Times.

Evening gowns, always the delight of the designer, are full of charm. They are much the same in type as the styles of the winter season. There are, of course, changes in the fabric, eliminating the heavier brocade and satins, velvets and metallic materials. But character and importance are given to the handsomer gowns and wraps in stuffs equally beautiful, some of them quite as costly as the gorgeous velvet and metal brocades one sees at the height of the town season. There are now even summer velvets, which are really silken chiffon velvets in embossed patterns, light as a feather and very supple. There is also a summer version of satin which has that chiffonlike texture that lends itself to the most graceful arrangement in drapery. These materials are shown in models from representative houses, both French and American. Most of them are for daytime, to be worn on more or less formal occasions, and they are also seen in "dressy" wraps for both day and night wear.

Summer Wrap in Demand.

The summer wrap is of distinct importance at the moment because there has been continuous need for it, and its many variants are alluringly interpreted in chiffon velvet, and crepe satins as well as in lighter silks and more sheer materials that belong to warm weather dress. Regardless of the calendar some of the most delightful and effective gowns are being made of soft satin, for many fashionable women prefer for formal evening dress the more sophisticated mode expressed in a satin or silk.

Callot Soeurs are making some lovely gowns of satin or of moire, which is one of the conspicuous successes of the year. A detail in some of these models from Callot is a wide sash girdle fitted loosely over the hips and finished with a large butterfly bow, no hanging ends. An evening gown designed for an American woman of stately carriage and little figure is made of starkrepe, a new crepe satin, very pliant and lustrous, in chartreuse, the delicate yellow green now so fashionable. The model is a faring princess, straight in front and cut to ripple around the bottom, from the knees toward the back, where it is drawn upward, with a cascading edge that ends in a short jabot-like tie. The foundation of this gown is a straight slip of the satin, the neck being cut in a deep V—in surplice arrangement at the back, quite high in front. A band of gold passementerie is added to finish the neck and the bottom of the underdress, and no other trimming is used on the gown, which is sleeveless.

Moire Having a Run.

Moire is having what in the theater would be called a "run." This is now made in lighter, softer weave than the stiff moire that once was tested by the quality that would "stand alone." Some very handsome gowns of dignified simplicity are shown in moire, in white, in sunni, the new yellow; in several shades of green, blue, chartreuse and coral sand. Because of the ornate character of the material, these moire gowns are cut after simple designs, some of the best in princess style and little trimmed, with a narrow galloon of strass beads, in glass or silver.

Taffeta is the other name for silk

in the summer evening gown, this being the acknowledged "hit" of the season. There is in it a frosty luster and delicacy that seems to be achieved in no other silk fabric. In the revival of taffeta Lanvin has led the way with her period gowns, and other designers on both sides of the water have contributed each in his or her particular way to the popularity of this ideal "summer" silk. The demand has been so heavy and so general that the dressmakers are saying there is no more taffeta to be had.

An evening gown from Callot in silvery white taffeta is made with a plain bodice, cut in round, moderate décolleté and sleeveless, with the opening on one shoulder and under the arm. The normal waistline is outlined with a dull silver passementerie and a tiny, upstanding frill of narrow lace, and the entire skirt, very bouffant and ankle length, is made of ruffles of the taffeta, each edged with a line of silver, a large, stiff rosette of lace and silver being placed as a motif at one side of the belt. This delightful model illustrates the feeling for quaintness which inspires the modiste who works in taffeta.

Like Fringed Ruching.

American designers have a fondness for the fringed ruching made of taffeta with which some of the prettiest frocks, particularly for the younger women, are trimmed. Some evening gowns of unusual design in taffeta are made severely plain and given distinction through an embroidered motif. Some of these are extreme in pattern and size, extending from shoulder to hem, or in large plaques on the skirt or bodice or both. Quite lovely is a little frock of mauve taffeta with a simple bodice finished all about the edges of skirt, neck, and little cap sleeves with a bound scallop. The skirt, which is plain in front, is embroidered in a large spider's web in gray floss and is gathered to the waist full at the sides and back. Another model of simpler type, altogether Parisian, is done in rose-gray taffeta, having a huge conventionalized rose made of narrow grosgrain ribbon plaited on the front breadth of the full skirt, a spiral of floss trailing over the length of the frock.

Handsome evening toilettes include some in silver lame and silver lace, used with brilliant effect, especially in combination with satin, which is shown this season on some of the most elaborate wedding gowns. In all lace, which is very much in vogue at present, some enchanting evening gowns are shown. The dyed laces are very chic and make frocks that are graceful and showy for informal affairs. The dyeing of these laces is done with great skill and most charming results are achieved.

One frock of sea-green lace, made over peach chiffon, is an ideal dance frock for summer. A model of blond lace combined with chiffon of the same shade is gentle in tone, always flattering, and has the advantage of being the sort of frock that will be equally suitable for a tea dance or an evening affair, and that may be worn with a wrap of any sort. A beautiful evening gown of French authorship is made of black chantilly lace over pink satin crepe, illustrating one of the latest color combinations.

Logically the stuff of which evening gowns and all the other formal costumes for summer should be built is the sheer material in all of its present variants—chiffon, georgette, mousseline de soie and all the crepes, both flowered and in plain colors. Chiffon in different weights and weaves is the medium of far the greater number of modes for evening and all distinctly summer dress. The artistry with which chiffon is embroidered, beaded, weighted with passementerie and fringed is amazing, the ideal accomplishment being to retain that subtle clinging action and yet produce a dazzling effect.

Fringe is one of the ultra-fashionable trimmings shown by the foremost designers of Paris and very much reproduced by modistes on this side. A high light in the summer collections is an evening gown from Premet, all in one shade of blue. It is of georgette, the upper part being finely plaited and bloused into a soft girde.

Little Visits

Around the Rural Section

Written especially for the Dispatch by W. H. Triplett, travelling editor for this paper and The Farmer of St. Paul.

Practically the whole forenoon was spent in calling on farmers who were not at home the first time I called, and at that, many of them were not home again today. So many miles were covered and few visited. The first one whom we found at home was Fred Aspholm who was busy weeding the strawberry bed and his boys were hard at the same job although when I drove in they did the same as all boys would do—sort of took it easy. Mr. Aspholm has 160 acres most of it being hayland and pasture. He has 12 acres of corn of very fine stand. Dairying is his major enterprise, milking 16 cows of mixed breed. Mr. Aspholm has no alfalfa but plans on seeding some next year.

A. H. Aspholm was spraying "spuds" when I drove in, which is a job one must do in order to keep "Mr. Potato Bug" from destroying the crop. I found Mrs. Aspholm doing the weekly washing with her son Donald furnishing the power. While we were visiting the said power decreased to almost nothing. Mrs. Aspholm has 250 chickens that would make some delicious fries. Mr. Aspholm is building up his dairy herd with a purebred sire of Holstein breed.

I had an interesting visit and a delicious dinner at the home of August Nelson. His son Edward has run the place for the past year. Edward formerly worked in North Dakota as dairy commissioner. Mr. Nelson moved on the place 26 years ago when the land was covered with heavy timber, but now it is completely cleared and they have a very fine farmstead with a home as modern and up-to-date as any city home. A silo has been used for the past eight years, and as Mr. Nelson remarked, he could not have made such improvements as he has if he had had no silo. Edward is working toward a purebred Guernsey herd and at present has 14 high-grade milch cows; the average test of the herd is 4 per cent and the average production is from 5,000-7,000 pounds of milk per year. Mrs. Edward Nelson remarked that if farmers' wives would only co-operate, they could have the same advantages as those living in the cities and at the same time improve the community in which they live.

Ira Swift is working in the boiler shops and farming 80 acres, and milking seven cows of Holstein breed as a sideline. The milk is delivered in Brainerd to stores and patrons. Mrs. Patterson and daughter Laura are making their home with Mr. and Mrs. Swift, the latter being her sister.

A. Roxburg is another one of our shop workers who also farms, having 80 acres. As Mrs. Roxburg remarked the farm is the only place to bring up children, as one always knows where they are and who they are playing with. Sunday the family spent the day at South Long Lake, fishing and swimming. Mrs. Roxburg has not yet quite recovered from a month's visit with relatives in Montana, returning a little over a week ago.

Andrew Erickson is another one of our dairymen who help to supply the city of Brainerd with milk. Twenty cows are in the herd and a milking machine is used to lessen the labor. Electric lights and an electric washer help to lighten the burden of housework for the women. This is the first electric washer I have seen during my visits although electricity was in the home. Miss Hildegard Erickson is having trouble with her arm which she injured when only a little girl and has to have it in splints. Miss Lillian Doust has made her home with the Ericksons for the last three years. Mrs. Erickson recently returned from Montana where she accompanied her sister, Mrs. Roxburg. Mr. Erickson has farmed 220 acres for 23 years and the past few years has used a Fordson for plowing, grinding feed and sawing lumber; he also has a small threshing machine to do his own threshing, and some for his neighbors.

During my visit with Mr. Nelson this afternoon, the following figures were given me, which if studied will show some valuable facts. Mr. Nelson paid $100.00 for his first registered sire and sold same for $108.00, after using for two years. He paid $200.00 for the second sire, used him four years and sold him for $400.00. The third sire cost $285.00, was used four years and sold for $90.00. The present sire cost him $150.00. Figuring the total cost of the money paid for the sires and deducting the amount received when sold, his present sire cost him $137.00. During our visits we hear remarks, suggestions, criticisms etc., in regard to how we can better the community. A question was asked me today—"Do you find that farmers are keeping records of their farm business?" In general the answer is "no." Like the mariner at sea, the farmer needs a chart to help him discover his location in his business adventures. The index to success for the average farmer is the fact that the business is making a living. Records are a means of determining which methods are best and to discover if the plan of farming is a business success. It is immaterial how one keeps records of farm business, just so one knows what comes in and what goes out. Probably what is known as cost accounting is the most effective system of records the farmer may use to inform him of the efficiency of his methods. It consists of keeping a detailed record of investment and

If the value of a cow as a milk producer is in question, a record of the amount, kind, and price of her feed and of the yield and fat content of her milk would be kept for a given period of time. Summer Fashions Varied, Charming

Winsome Evening Wraps and Gowns in Many Inter- esting Versions.

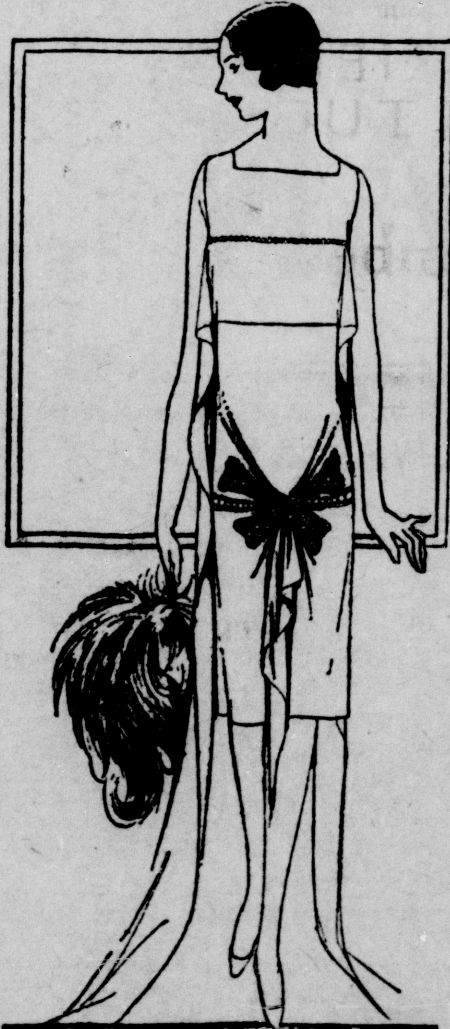

Social activities being directly influenced by the seasons, it followed that the unusually cool and backward period had the effect of causing the transfer indoors of many activities which might otherwise have been held in the open air. This has perhaps called forth, broadly speaking, more formal and elaborate costumes for occasions than is usually true. But fashions adapted to the needs of the season are nevertheless unusually pleasing, declares a fashion writer in the New York Times.

Evening gowns, always the delight of the designer, are full of charm. They are much the same in type as the styles of the winter season. There are, of course, changes in the fabric, eliminating the heavier brocade and satins, velvets and metallic materials. But character and importance are given to the handsomer gowns and wraps in stuffs equally beautiful, some of them quite as costly as the gorgeous velvet and metal brocades one sees at the height of the town season. There are now even summer velvets, which are really silken chiffon velvets in embossed patterns, light as a feather and very supple. There is also a summer version of satin which has that chiffonlike texture that lends itself to the most graceful arrangement in drapery. These materials are shown in models from representative houses, both French and American. Most of them are for daytime, to be worn on more or less formal occasions, and they are also seen in "dresy" wraps for both day and night wear.

Summer Wrap in Demand.

The summer wrap is of distinct importance at the moment because there has been continuous need for it, and its many variants are alluringly interpreted in chiffon velvet, and crepe satins as well as in lighter silks and more sheer materials that belong to warm weather dress. Regardless of the calendar some of the most delightful and effective gowns are being made of soft satin, for many fashionable women prefer for formal evening dress the more sophisticated mode expressed in a satin or silk.

Callot Soeurs are making some lovely gowns of satin or of moire, which is one of the conspicuous successes of the year. A detail in some of these models from Callot is a wide sash girde fitted loosely over the hips and finished with a large butterfly bow, no hanging ends. An evening gown designed for an American woman of stately carriage and little figure is made of starkrepe, a new crepe satin, very plant and lustrous, in char- treuse, the delicate yellow green now so fashionable. The model is a flaring princess, straight in front and cut to ripple around the bottom, from the knees toward the back, where it is drawn upward, with a cascading edge that ends in a short jabot-like tie. The foundation of this gown is a straight slip of the satin, the neck being cut in a deep V—in surprise arrangement at the back, quite high in front. A band of gold passementerie

Combination of Black and Pink Evening Gown of Chiffon.

Is added to finish the neck and the bottom of the undersleeve, and no other trimming is used on the gown, which is sleeveless.

Moire Having a Run.

Moire is having what in the theater would be called a "run." This is now made in lighter, softer weave than the stiff moire that once was tested by the quality that would "stand alone." Some very handsome gowns of dignified simplicity are shown in moire, in white, in sunni, the new yellow; in several shades of green, blue, chartreuse and coral sand. Because of the ornate character of the material, these moire gowns are cut after simple designs, some of the best in princess style and little trimmed, with a narrow galloon of strass beads, in glass or silver.

Taffeta is the other name for silk

in the summer evening gown, this being the acknowledged "hit" of the season. There is in it a frosty luster and delicacy that seems to be achieved in no other silk fabric. In the revival of taffeta Lanvin has led the way with her period gowns, and other designers on both sides of the water have contributed each in his or her particular way to the popularity of this ideal "summer" silk. The demand has been so heavy and so general that the dressmakers are saying there is no more taffeta to be had.

An evening gown from Callot in silvery white taffeta is made with a plain bodice, cut in round, moderate decollete and sleeveless, with the opening on one shoulder and under the arm. The normal waistline is outlined with a dull silver passementerie and a tiny, upstanding frill of narrow lace, and the entire skirt, very bouffant and ankle length, is made of ruffles of the taffeta, each edged with a line of silver, a large, stiff rosette of lace and silver being placed as a motif at one side of the belt. This delightful model illustrates the feeling for quaintness which inspires the modiste who works in taffeta.

Like Fringed Ruching.

American designers have a fondness for the fringed ruching made of taffeta with which some of the prettiest frocks, particularly for the younger women, are trimmed. Some evening gowns of unusual design in taffeta are made severely plain and given distinction through an embroidered motif. Some of these are extreme in pattern and size, extending from shoulder to hem, or in large plaques on the skirt or bodice or both. Quite lovely is a little frock of mauve taffeta with a simple bodice finished all about the edges of skirt, neck, and little cap sleeves with a bound scallop. The skirt, which is plain in front, is embroidered in a large spider's web in gray floss and is gathered to the waist full at the sides and back. Another model of simpler type, altogether Parisian, is done in rose-gray taffeta, having a huge conventionalized rose made of narrow grosgrain ribbon plaited on the front breadth of the full skirt, a spiral of floss trailing over the length of the frock.

Handsome evening toilettes include some in silver lame and silver lace, used with brilliant effect, especially in combination with satin, which is shown this season on some of the most elaborate wedding gowns. In all lace, which is very much in vogue at present, some enchanting evening gowns are shown. The dyed laces are very chic and make frocks that are graceful and showy for informal affairs. The dyeing of these laces is done with great skill and most charming results are achieved.

One frock of sea-green lace, made over peach chiffon, is an ideal dance frock for summer. A model of blond lace combined with chiffon of the same shade is gentle in tone, always flattering, and has the advantage of being the sort of frock that will be equally suitable for a tea dance or an evening affair, and that may be worn with a wrap of any sort. A beautiful evening gown of French authorship is made of black chantilly lace over pink satin crepe, illustrating one of the latest color combinations.

Logically the stuff of which evening gowns and all the other formal costumes for summer should be built is the sheer material in all of its present variants—chiffon, georgette, mouseline de soie and all the crepes, both flowered and in plain colors. Chiffon in different weights and weaves is the medium of far the greater number of modes for evening and all distinctly summer dress. The artistry with which chiffon is embroidered, beaded, weighted with passementerie and fringed is amazing, the ideal accomplishment being to retain that subtle clinging action and yet produce a dazzling effect.

Fringe is one of the ultra-fashionable trimmings shown by the foremost designers of Paris and very much reproduced by modistes on this side. A high light in the summer collections is an evening gown from Premet, all in one shade of blue. It is of georgette, the upper part being finely plaited and bloused into a soft girde.

Little Visits

Around the Rural Section

Written especially for the Dispatch by W. H. Triplett, travelling editor for this paper and The Farmer of St. Paul.

Practically the whole forenoon was spent in calling on farmers who were not at home the first time I called, and at that, many of them were not home again today. So many miles were covered and few visited. The first one whom we found at home was Fred Aspholm who was busy weeding the strawberry bed and his boys were hard at the same job although when I drove in they did the same as all boys would do—sort of took it easy. Mr. Aspholm has 160 acres most of it being hayland and pasture. He has 12 acres of corn of very fine stand. Dairying is his major enterprise, milking 16 cows of mixed breed. Mr. Aspholm has no alfalfa but plans on seeding some next year.

A. H. Aspholm was spraying "spuds" when I drove in, which is a job one must do in order to keep "Mr. Potato Bug" from destroying the crop. I found Mrs. Aspholm doing the weekly washing with her son Donald furnishing the power. While we were visiting the said power decreased to almost nothing. Mrs. Aspholm has 250 chickens that would make some delicious fries. Mr. Aspholm is building up his dairy herd with a purebred sire of Holstein breed.

I had an interesting visit and a delicious dinner at the home of August Nelson. His son Edward has run the place for the past year. Edward formerly worked in North Dakota as dairy commissioner. Mr. Nelson moved on the place 26 years ago when the land was covered with heavy timber, but now it is completely cleared and they have a very fine farmstead with a home as modern and up-to-date as any city home. A silo has been used for the past eight years, and as Mr. Nelson remarked, he could not have made such improvements as he has if he had had no silo. Edward is working toward a purebred Guernsey herd and at present has 14 high-grade milk cows; the average test of the herd is 4 per cent and the average production is from 5,000-7,000 pounds of milk per year. Mrs. Edward Nelson remarked that if farmers' wives would only co-operate, they could have the same advantages as those living in the cities and at the same time improve the community in which they live.

Ira Swift is working in the boiler shops and farming 80 acres, and milking seven cows of Holstein breed as a sideline. The milk is delivered in Brainerd to stores and patrons. Mrs. Patterson and daughter Laura are making their home with Mr. and Mrs. Swift, the latter being her sister.

A. Roxburg is another one of our shop workers who also farms, having 80 acres. As Mrs. Roxburg remarked the farm is the only place to bring up children, as one always knows where they are and who they are playing with. Sunday the family spent the day at South Long Lake, fishing and swimming. Mrs. Roxburg has not yet quite recovered from a month's visit with relatives in Montana, returning a little over a week ago.

Andrew Erickson is another one of our dairymen who help to supply the city of Brainerd with milk. Twenty cows are in the herd and a milking machine is used to lessen the labor. Electric lights and an electric washer help to lighten the burden of housework for the women. This is the first electric washer I have seen during my visits although I have visited several places where electricity was in the home. Miss Hildegard Erickson is having trouble with her arm which she injured when only a little girl and has to have it in splints. Miss Lillian Doust has made her home with the Ericksons for the last three years. Mrs. Erickson recently returned from Montana where she accompanied her sister, Mrs. Roxburg. Mr. Erickson has farmed 220 acres for 23 years and the past few years has used a Fordson for plowing, grinding feed and sawing lumber; he also has a small threshing machine to do his own threshing, and some for his neighbors.

During my visit with Mr. Nelson this afternoon, the following figures were given me, which if studied will show some valuable facts. Mr. Nelson paid $100.00 for his first registered sire and sold same for $108.00, after using for two years. He paid $200.00 for the second sire, used him four years and sold him for $400.00. The third sire cost $285.00, was used four years and sold for $300.00. The present sire cost him $150.00. Figuring the total cost of the money paid for the sires and deducting the amount received when sold, his present sire cost him $137.00. During our visits we hear remarks, suggestions, criticisms etc., in regard to how we can better the community. A question was asked me today—"Do you find that farmers are keeping records of their farm business?" In general the answer is "no." Like the mariner at sea, the farmer needs a chart to help him discover his location in his business adventures. The index to success for the average farmer is the fact that the business is making a living. Records are a means of determining which methods are best and to discover if the plan of farming is a business success. It is immaterial how one keeps records of farm business, just so one knows what comes in and what goes out. Probably what is known as cost accounting is the most effective system of records the farmer may use to inform him of the efficiency of his methods. It consists of keeping a detailed record of investment and

Star Steps Out of Character in New Robert Kane Film

Aileen Pringle, Lowell Sherman and Chester Conklin have the feature roles in Robert T. Kane's new First National production, "The Wilderness Woman," which is showing at the Lyceum Theatre here tonight and Wednesday.

At least two of the trio mentioned above appear in roles unusual for them. Miss Pringle, who has almost consistently played in roles demanding superb raiment, has a comedy character part in this picture.

Lowell Sherman, one of the best known of the screen "villains," appears as a hero in "The Wilderness Woman." Chester Conklin, the comic with the walrus mustache, is shown as a millionaire but illiterate Alaskan miner.

If the value of a cow as a milk producer is in question, a record of the amount, kind, and price of her feed and of the yield and fat content of her milk would be kept for a given period of time. Reduce Fat Slowly

One of the grave mistakes common to overweight persons is to decide suddenly that their superfluous flesh must be removed quickly. Reduction in weight should proceed slowly. It is impossible to maintain health on a drastic reducing program. One cannot expect to take off in two months what it has taken years to put on, and survive the experience in perfect health, says Eileen Bourne, in Liberty.

Health—A Live Subject At Afternoon Teas

IT is under such circumstances that experiences are exchanged and women tell one another what treatments have been of most benefit to them.

It is a pretty safe guess that in these tete-a-tetes no medicine is so frequently mentioned as Dr. Chase's Tonic Pills and there is a very good reason why.

Any physician will tell you that most of the ailments which most bother women are due to lowered vitality.

In these days of surgical specialists the operation is too frequently the first thing recommended, whereas, in many cases, restored vitality would enable nature to restore the natural functions to the deranged organs.

Lowered vitality may come from the strain of irregular hours, loss of rest and sleep, too much excitement or worry.

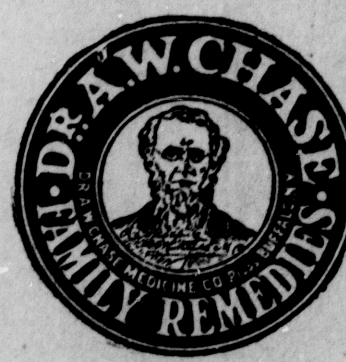

It may also result from lack of proper nourishment, from over-eating or from sedentary habits.

When vitality runs low there is no end to the troubles that may arise and you are an easy prey to colds, pneumonia and all sorts of germ diseases.

Restorative treatment is demanded and because Dr. Chase's Tonic Pills have proven to be the greatest of restoratives of the blood and nerve force is why they are so greatly appreciated by women everywhere.

Put these popular restoratives to the test when you find yourself nervous, irritable and sleepless, or suffer from indigestion, headaches or tired, depressed feelings.

You will soon be convinced of their merits and will realize then why so many thousands of women find a joy in telling their friends of benefits received.

WANTON MURDER OF GULLS

GULL lake, which no doubt secured its name from the fact that gulls have made the lake a resting place or home, has had its gull sanctuary rudely disturbed by rifle blasts of people bent on shooting these birds.

A reputable citizen brings the story to THE BRAINERD DISPATCH. Such shooting should be stopped and stopped immediately and the offenders should be punished. Lake dwellers should report further depredations, if any are made.

As told to us, the citizen's story gave two sides to a gull story, each as widely separated in sentiment as the poles of the earth. Some tourist found a wounded, little gull floating on the waters near his home, nursed the bird, restored it to health and then rowed out to one of the small islands in Gull lake where the birds make a home and which, by all old residents of the lake, is regarded as a sanctuary for the birds.

As he drew near the island he was horrified to see two boatloads of people, armed with small rifles, firing volleys into the gulls. The latter clung to their rocks and shores much as a cow or horse will stick to its burning barn.

Wild life, be it bird, fish, animal, or flower, etc., should be preserved in all its pristine strength and beauty. The gull shooters, so filled with a blood lust for slaying, must be clearly bereft of all reason. You can't eat a gull. Few are stuffed by taxidermists. If you shoot down the gulls, your same rifle will make a mark of the sand cranes, owls, loons, etc. If you must shoot with a BB rifle, take some unoffending tin can and vent your skill on puncturing its sides or ends. But leave our gulls alone.

GOOD OLD CROW WING COUNTY

SOMETIME ago THE BRAINERD DISPATCH published a story regarding the advent of the green bug in our county and damage it may do. The bug is small, but hundreds of them gather on a stalk of wheat and draw the moisture from it.

Our rural visitor and editor, W. H. Triplett, has made an intensive study of the situation while visiting farmers of the county and has found no trace of the green bugs, to date.

Reading Triplett's "Little Visits" one realizes that farmers of Crow Wing county have something to be thankful for. The county sustains its reputation of never having had a total crop failure. Each year there is something to give reward to the farmer who practices diversified farming.

One year the hay crop was exceptionally good and prices were high. Another year it was potatoes that flourished. One year we had a wonderful corn season. And dairying and poultry raising can always be depended on.

If you have a friend in Iowa, Minnesota, Kansas or any other farming state, who is a tenant farmer or who may wish to sell his holdings and emigrate, send him THE BRAINERD DISPATCH giving the record of Triplett's visits. In plain language he tells of the advantages which Crow Wing county offers. Land, either improved or unimproved, is comparatively cheap in Crow Wing county where schools and markets and good roads and tourist cash trade and other advantages appeal to any business like farmer.

MORE ABOUT TARVIA

H. E. SAMUELSON, of the Bureau of Information, Minnesota State Highway Department, in a letter to the editor of THE BRAINERD DISPATCH, says:

"We have read your editorial in your issue of July 20 relative to tarvia paving, with much interest. It is true that this stuff is very objectionable when first applied, but Mr. W. F. Rosenwald, our maintenance engineer, says that hot weather is the ideal time to make a tarvia treatment in order to secure proper penetration with resulting lasting qualities. The results are much more satisfactory than if the treatment were attempted in cooler weather and the disagreeable period is shorter in hot weather than it would be in cold weather.

"I shall probably have a paragraph on this subject in next week's news bulletin. Assuring you that we appreciate the friendly spirit of this editorial as well as other comment in your paper, we are, very truly yours, Minnesota Highway Department."

The editorial in question thanked the Highway Department for improvements made regardless of when applied and cautioned car owners to drive slowly on the tarvia pavement and avoid tearing it out with the impact of such speedy, heavy traffic.

BELIEVE IN REALISM

CUSTER, S. D., is staging a pageant in commemoration of the half century since the gold rush of '76. Citizens desire to make it as realistic as possible and have resurrected the habiliments of fifty years ago and the men have allowed their whiskers to grow.

Barbers in Custer say it has seriously affected receipts and that business would be duller still if the women had stopped bobbing and shingling. A regular wild west atmosphere has been created in town and "make believe" stage coach robberies, Indian battles, etc., have been staged to give effect to the celebration.

But raising the whiskers, we believe, is the height of realism and Custer people could have gone no further in their devotion to realism and giving a life like replica of the wild and woolly days of a gold rush.

Each rush, and we have observed many, has carried its train of rough amusement which the veneer of present civilization could now hardly cover with any degree of aplomb.

JOCKEYING FOR FIGHT LOCATION

THE moves of Tex Rickard, in trying to find a suitable battle ground for his Dempsey-Tunney heavyweight championship bout, reminds us of the old days before prize fighting had attained the dignity of a "profession."

In the early days when Sullivan fought anybody everywhere and at any time, fighters were principally engaged in keeping two laps ahead of the sheriff of any bailiwick who was intent on stopping the fight. Many a fight took place on an island or floating barge. Plain fist fights were more common than the gloved ones.

FURRIERS' UNION

4 MEN AND 2 WOMEN MEMBERS
HELD BY PASSAIC, N. J.,
POLICE

Passaic, N. J., July 26.—(UP)—Four women and two men members of the Furriers' Union of New York were held here today as the result of a strike riot in which several persons were severely beaten when a delegation of striking fur workers who came to attend a demonstration in behalf of the textile strikers clashed with police.

The furriers, numbering 350, arrived in buses displaying banners. Police, it is said, objected to the legends on the banners, whereupon they were booed by the visitors. The police charged the line of marchers, attacking them with their clubs.

After a meeting in Ukrainian hall, where Albert Weisberg addressed 7,000, another clash between the fur workers and police occurred when Chief Sober ordered his men to clear them out. The visitors resisted the police with sticks and stones, but were routed, leaving six under arrest.

One year the hay crop was exceptionally good and prices were high. Another year it was potatoes that flourished. One year we had a wonderful corn season. And dairying and poultry raising can always be depended on.

If you have a friend in Iowa, Minnesota, Kansas or any other farming state, who is a tenant farmer or who may wish to sell his holdings and emigrate, send him THE BRAINERD DISPATCH giving the record of Triplett's visits. In plain language he tells of the advantages which Crow Wing county offers. Land, either improved or unimproved, is comparatively cheap in Crow Wing county where schools and markets and good roads and tourist cash trade and other advantages appeal to any business like farmer.

MORE ABOUT TARVIA

H. E. SAMUELSON, of the Bureau of Information, Minnesota State Highway Department, in a letter to the editor of THE BRAINERD DISPATCH, says:

"We have read your editorial in your issue of July 20 relative to tarvia paving, with much interest. It is true that this stuff is very objectionable when first applied, but Mr. W. F. Rosenwald, our maintenance engineer, says that hot weather is the ideal time to make a tarvia treatment in order to secure proper penetration with resulting lasting qualities. The results are much more satisfactory than if the treatment were attempted in cooler weather and the disagreeable period is shorter in hot weather than it would be in cold weather.

"I shall probably have a paragraph on this subject in next week's news bulletin. Assuring you that we appreciate the friendly spirit of this editorial as well as other comment in your paper, we are, very truly yours, Minnesota Highway Department."

The editorial in question thanked the Highway Department for improvements made regardless of when applied and cautioned car owners to drive slowly on the tarvia pavement and avoid tearing it out with the impact of such speedy, heavy traffic.

BELIEVE IN REALISM

CUSTER, S. D., is staging a pageant in commemoration of the half century since the gold rush of '76. Citizens desire to make it as realistic as possible and have resurrected the habiliments of fifty years ago and the men have allowed their whiskers to grow.

Barbers in Custer say it has seriously affected receipts and that business would be duller still if the women had stopped bobbing and shingling. A regular wild west atmosphere has been created in town and "make believe" stage coach robberies, Indian battles, etc., have been staged to give effect to the celebration.

But raising the whiskers, we believe, is the height of realism and Custer people could have gone no further in their devotion to realism and giving a life like replica of the wild and woolly days of a gold rush.

Each rush, and we have observed many, has carried its train of rough amusement which the veneer of present civilization could now hardly cover with any degree of aplomb.

JOCKEYING FOR FIGHT LOCATION

THE moves of Tex Rickard, in trying to find a suitable battle ground for his Dempsey-Tunney heavyweight championship bout, reminds us of the old days before prize fighting had attained the dignity of a "profession."

In the early days when Sullivan fought anybody everywhere and at any time, fighters were principally engaged in keeping two laps ahead of the sheriff of any bailiwick who was intent on stopping the fight. Many a fight took place on an island or floating barge. Plain fist fights were more common than the gloved ones.

FURRIERS' UNION IN STRIKE RIOT

4 MEN AND 2 WOMEN MEMBERS
HELD BY PASSAIC, N. J.,
POLICE

Passaic, N. J., July 26.—(UP)—Four women and two men members of the Furriers' Union of New York were held here today as the result of a strike riot in which several persons were severely beaten when a delegation of striking fur workers who came to attend a demonstration in behalf of the textile strikers clashed with police.

The furriers, numbering 350, arrived in busses displaying banners. Police, it is said, objected to the legends on the banners, whereupon they were booed by the visitors. The police charged the line of marchers, attacking them with their clubs.

After a meeting in Ukrainian hall, where Albert Weisberg addressed 7,000, another clash between the fur workers and police occurred when Chief Sober ordered his men to clear them out. The visitors resisted the police with sticks and stones, but were routed, leaving six under arrest.

FOREST FIRES RAGING AGAIN

ONE FIRE FIGHTER IS THOUGHT DEAD NEAR GOLDEN, B. C.

Winnipeg, Man., July 27.—(UP)—Forest fires have again broken out in the Golden, B. C., area and one fire fighter is believed to have lost his life Monday.

Probably the earliest attempt to discover the Northwest passage and incidentally to define the location of the North pole was made by a Portuguese named Corte Real about 1500. In 1585 a company was formed in London called "The Fellowship for the Discovery of the Northwest Passage."

Excellent Idea

Scenery at Night
Night mountain scenery in all its weird beauty is to be made visible along one of the transcontinental railway lines this summer by the aid of batteries of floodlights on observation car platforms.

The request came from W. J. Campbell, Oshkosh, leader of the old guard republicans.

"Certain conservative republicans throughout the state," the request said, "are supporting you in the belief that you do not believe in the initiative, the referendum and the re-

"SOMETHING IS HAPPENING IN THE AUTOMOTIVE WORLD"

OLDSMOBILE ANNOUNCES

ADDED POWER . . . LONGER LIFE SMOOTHER PERFORMANCE

Enlarged Engine Enlarged in the bore of the cylinders from 2 1/4 inches to 2 3/4 inches, increasing its displacement from 169 cubic inches to 185 cubic inches.

Dual Air Cleaning In this new Oldsmobile, a master air cleaner eliminates the injurious particles from two-thirds of the air before it enters the carburetor directly—while the second cleaner, in connection with crankcase ventilation, cleans the balance of the air.

Crankcase Ventilation In all internal combustion engines water is formed by condensation. Cold engines do not burn all of the fuel on starting. This water and liquid fuel pass into the crankcase and form crankcase dilution. Excessive dilution is eliminated by crankcase ventilation. It draws off water vapor and unburned fuel that may have passed into the crankcase. Crankcase ventilation improves performance and gives longer life to the engine and oil.

Oil Filter An oil filter has been added to this Oldsmobile, prolonging still more the life of the engine and the useful life of the oil. Should the filter become clogged with sediment, the lubricating system functions in the common manner. All principle parts are pressure lubricated.

Harmonic Balancer The Harmonic Balancer, developed by General Motors engineers, counteracts vibration and gives Oldsmobile a smoothness you will quickly recognize when you see the wheel.

Velocity An improved jacketing of the intake manifold by the heated exhaust manifold is effected in the vertical section of the intake above the carburetor. The intake manifold above the exhaust manifold and heated manifold the highly explosive state of intake.

Reduction The gear ratio of the rear axle has been reduced to 4.73 to 1. This contributes to smoother performance in that fewer revolutions of the engine are required to drive the car a given distance, while the enlarged engine new surplus of power even after the gear ratio.

Improved A slight change in the contour of the combustion chambers gives greater turbulence to the incoming gases. This change produces more engine performance and contributes to surplus power.

Two-Way Now Oldsmobile offers "two-way" cooling, which incorporate the best features of the two accepted types—cooling and thermo-siphon cooling. The point of greatest heat are cooled by cold method of circulation, while the thermo-siphon type of action, in which the circulation is largely governed by the heat upon the water, maintains about the same sufficient warmth for efficient operation. There is a new type of cooling design, incorporating the best features of all past engineering—even temperature cooling control.

Other Improvements Other changes, contributing added power, longer life and smoother performance, form a long list of features such as slight change of cam contour, double valve springs as in aircraft and racing car engines—and others equally important.

GREATER ECONOMY

Manifold Design The manifold design also improves the operating economy of the Oldsmobile Series "E." On the General Motors Proving Ground, this car established new records for mobile operating economy. The air cleaning, the crankcase ventilation, the "two-way" cooling and other features that are attributes of longer life, power, efficiency and smoothness, are also factors of operating economy.

ADDED POWER: LONGER LIFE: SMOOTHER PERFORMANCE: ADDED DRIVING EASE AND SECURITY: GREATER ECONOMY: FINER APPOINTMENTS: ADDED BEAUTY: AT NO INCREASE IN STANDARD PRICES

"... that the American family may have, at a moderate investment, a car which gratifies their finer tastes as well as satisfies their every need...."

ing economy, than already characterized Oldsmobile Six!

PRODUCT OF GENERAL MOTORS

ADDED EASE AND SECURITY

Thermodynamic Charging Control Oldsmobile now has thermodynamic control on the generator that automatically increases the charging rate when the engine is cold and decreases the charging rate as the temperature rises. The spark control is full automatic.

Twin-Beam Light Control Head lamps have double-filament bulbs, one filament for "bright action" and one for "dim action". On "dim action" the light is bright but thrown at a downward angle that protects the oncoming driver and gives ample vision to the Oldsmobile driver.

Steering Wheel Light Control The twin-beam Oldsmobile headlight driver shifting his position, as the light control switch is a neat lever, exactly like the hand throttle, centered on the steering wheel.

Instruments From behind the glass face of each instrument in the unit-grouped dash panel, an indirect light glows illuminated whenever any of the lights are lighted, illuminating each instrument without glare or reflection in the driver's eyes.

Instrument Panel Fuel Gauge A reliable instrument board fuel gauge, now standard on all Oldsmobile body types, accurately indicates the supply of gasoline.

Theft-Proof Car Lock A new design in theft-proof car locks is a feature of this Oldsmobile. With this theft-proof control the engine cannot be started when the key is left in the lock. Turning off the ignition positively locks the car and reduces the hazard of thieves who commonly "cut over" on other types of locks, for switch and coil are built integral in a vault-like steel housing. The ignition key also operates the door locks.

NEW BEAUTY AND APPOINTMENTS

Fisher Two-Tone Duo Bodies Only seeing can give you a real appreciation of this truly fine car. New upholstery—new satin nickel fittings of period design. Large interior door handles, V. V. windshield, instruments unit grouped in a walnut panel centered on the satin finish black instrument board, walnut steering wheel, heavy rug and rubber mat floor coverings, deep spring-cushioned seats, at angles of greatest comfort. The hood line has been raised slightly, producing a longer and larger appearance. The radiator, finished in the new permanent-lustre chromium that is exclusively Oldsmobile's, retains its familiar beauty with a slight change in the sweep of the symmetrical side lines. The fenders are now full-crown type, with additional dust shields in black enamel.

NO STANDARD PRICE INCREASE

You Gain By The Benefits of Success All these features of greater value, and all those others that will impress you as you go over this Oldsmobile, point by point—are yours at no increase in Oldsmobile's low standard prices. The quality advances—but the low prices remain unchanged, with the exception of a ten dollar addition to the price of the DeLuxe Coach and the DeLuxe Sedan. And if you please, you may drive an Oldsmobile Series "E" as you pay for it from your income—on the G. M. A. C. plan of deferred payments. The Oldsmobile Series "E" may be had in ten body styles: the Standard Touring, $875; the DeLuxe Touring, $980; the DeLuxe Roadster, $975; the Standard Coupe, $925; the DeLuxe Coupe, $990; the Standard Coach, $950; the DeLuxe Coach, $1050; the Standard Sedan, $1025; the DeLuxe Sedan, $1125; and the Landau, $1190; all prices F. O. B., Lansing, Michigan. The DeLuxe types include special equipment attractive both in appearance and utility.

THE NEW LANDAU

Built for the Man Who Could Pay More It has long been a fact that a certain number of people have recognized that all the qualities of luxury, which they instinctively prize, may now be enjoyed in a car moderate in size and moderate in price. To meet this demand Oldsmobile now introduces the new Landau—complete, tasteful and beautiful.

FOREST FIRES RAGING AGAIN

ONE FIRE FIGHTER IS THOUGHT DEAD NEAR GOLDEN, B. C.

Winnipeg, Man., July 27.—(UP)—Forest fires have again broken out in the Golden, B. C., area and one fire fighter is believed to have lost his life Monday.

Becoming panic stricken when fire suddenly broke out in his territory, a man named Lindstrom is said to have met his death, when surrounded by flames, while other members of his party escaped by crossing a river on a raft. Other fire fighters reported dead or missing recently have later been located.

Seeking Northwest Passage

Probably the earliest attempt to discover the Northwest passage and incidentally to define the location of the North pole was made by a Portuguese named Corte Real about 1500. In 1585 a company was formed in London called "The Fellowship for the Discovery of the Northwest Passage."

Night mountain scenery in all its weird beauty is to be made visible along one of the transcontinental railway lines this summer by the aid of batteries of floodlights on observation car platforms.

ADDED EASE AND SECURITY

Thermostatic Charging Control Oldsmobile now has thermostatic static control on the generator that automatically increases the charging rate when the engine is cold and decreases the charging rate as the temperature rises. The spark control is full automatic.

Twin-Beam Light Control Head lamps have double-filament bulbs, one filament for "bright action" and one for "dim action". On "dim action" the light is bright but throws at a downward angle that protects the oncoming driver and gives ample vision to the Oldsmobile driver.

Steering Wheel The twin-beam Oldsmobile headlights are operated without the driver shifting his position, as the light control switch is a neat lever, exactly like the hand throttle, centered on the steering wheel.

Instruments From behind the glass face of each instrument in the unit-grouped dash panel, an indirect light glows illuminated whenever any of the lights are lighted, illuminating each instrument without glare or reflection in the driver's eyes.

Instrument Panel A reliable instrument board fuel gauge, now standard on all Oldsmobile body types, accurately indicates the supply of gasoline.

Thief-Proof Car Lock A new design in thief-proof car locks is a feature of this Oldsmobile. With this thief-proof control the engine cannot be started when the key is left in the lock. Turning off the ignition positively locks the car and reduces the hazard of thieves who commonly "cut over" on other types of locks, for switch and coil are built integral in a valve-like steel housing. The ignition key also operates the door locks.

NEW BEAUTY AND APPOINTMENTS

Fisher Two-Tone Duo Bodies Only seeing can give you a real appreciation of this truly fine car. New upholstery—new satin nickel fittings of period design. Large interior door handles, V. V. windshield, instruments unit grouped in a walnut panel centered on the satin finish black instrument board, walnut steering wheel, heavy rug and rubber mat floor coverings, deep spring-cushioned seats, all angles of greatest comfort. The hood line has been raised slightly, producing a longer and larger appearance. The radiator, finished in the new permanent-lustre chromium that is exclusively Oldsmobile's, retains its familiar beauty with a slight change in the sweep of the symmetrical side lines. The fenders are now full-crown type, with additional dust shields in black enamel.

NO STANDARD PRICE INCREASE

You Gain By The Benefits of Success All these features of greater value, and all those others that will impress you as you go over this Oldsmobile, point by point—are yours at no increase in Oldsmobile's low standard prices. The quality advances—but the low prices remain unchanged, with the exception of a ten dollar addition to the price of the Deluxe Coach and the Deluxe Sedan. And if you please, you may drive an Oldsmobile Series "6" as you pay for it from your income—on the G. M. A. C. plan of deferred payments. The Oldsmobile Series "6" may be had in ten body styles: the Standard Touring, $875; the Deluxe Touring, $980; the Deluxe Roadster, $975; the Standard Coupe, $925; the Deluxe Coupe, $990; the Standard Coach, $950; the Deluxe Coach, $1050; the Standard Sedan, $1025; the Deluxe Sedan, $1125; and the Landau, $1190; all prices F. O. B., Lansing, Michigan. The Deluxe types include special equipment attractive both in appearance and utility.

THE NEW LANDAU

Built for the Man Who Could Pay More It has long been a fact that a certain number of people have recognized that all the qualities of luxury, which they instinctively prize, may now be enjoyed in a car moderate in size and moderate in price. To meet this demand Oldsmobile now introduces the new Landau—complete, tasteful and beautiful.

RICKARD MOVES BIG BOUT TO NEW YORK

PROMOTER FINDS TOO MANY TANGLES IN CHICAGO FIELD

STATE BOXING COMMISSION OF NEW YORK IN RELENTING MOOD

COST OF BOXING PROMOTION IN WINDY CITY ASSUMED HIGH PROPORTIONS

By CLARK B. KELSEY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Chicago, July 27.—Tex Rickard, eastern promoter, today prepared to leave for New York City to promote his Jack Dempsey-Gene Tunney heavyweight championship bout in the metropolis.

Rickard is leaving Chicago for two reasons: He received a telegram from George Brower, member of the New York boxing commission, indicating he would change his vote on the commission to allow Rickard to put on Tunney with Dempsey instead of Harry Wills, which bout the commission had held priority. In addition to the New York bout about face Rickard had run into difficulty here in the form of a contract allegedly binding Dempsey to fight Wills here before meeting any other contender for the crown. Rickard said the cost of promoting the bout in Chicago together with the possibility under local boxing commission regulations that Jack Kearns, former manager of Dempsey, might be able to tie up the champion's purse, and not the contract held by a new promoter, B. C. Clements, caused him to heed the call of the New York commission, despite his repeated announcements that the "fight would be held in September."

Clements, Rickard claimed, merely wanted to "cut in on the velvet."

"He wanted to be taken in as a partner in the Dempsey-Tunney fight," said Rickard. "This I refused to do. He never did have a legal binding contract with Dempsey."

The telegram from Brower read in part:

"While I make no promises as to our action, I formally request that you proceed immediately to New York and bring this matter before the commission for further consideration."

This is taken to indicate that the vote of the commission on its next ballot will be 2 to 1 to allow Dempsey to fight Tunney in New York City despite Wills' prior challenge. It is believed Brower will vote with Commissioner Muldoon against Chairman Farley, reversing his earlier stand.

Smart boxing men here believed Rickard pulled a mighty bluff at promoting the bout in Chicago to force the New York commission to change its edict or look extremely silly.

N. Y. BOXING BODY IN ABOUT FACE

New York, July 27.—The New York boxing commission today, by a vote of 2 to 1, approved a fight in New York, September 16, between Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney for the heavyweight championship.

Chairman James A. Farley voted against approving the fight but was overruled by the other two commissioners, William Muldoon and George F. Brower.

The way for the fight in this city has not been cleared entirely, however. The license committee must grant a permit and Farley, who has insisted stubbornly that Dempsey must fight Harry Wills as prior challenger if he fights in this state at all, has an ace in the hole there.

A statement was read before the commission today from Colonel John Phelan, chairman of the license committee, saying that in matters pertaining to violations or rules and suspensions, the committee would be ruled by the opinion of the commission, but that in all other matters it exercised the right to exercise its own judgment.

Colorado Springs, Col., July 27.—"That sure suits me fine," said Jack Dempsey, when informed by the United Press that the New York boxing commission had voted to allow the Dempsey-Tunney match to be held in New York.

"I much preferred to fight in New York," the champion said, "but it was up to Rickard and whatever he did was all right with me."

THE CHAMPION PITTSBURGHERS' 3 DAYS' BATTLE WITH N. Y. GIANTS

CINCINNATI REDS ARE TO MEET BROOKLYN ROBINS IN A DOUBLE HEADER

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, July 27.—Three important series, upon which the championship may pivot, start today in the eastern sector of the National League. The champion Pittsburghers begin in a three days' series with the New York Giants, a club which John McGraw insists is still a pennant possibility. The Cincinnati Reds meet the Brooklyn Robins in a double header that will open a four game, three day series. The St. Louis Cardinals start a three day series in Philadelphia against the Phillies.

Individually these series may mean nothing and again they may amount to anything, but at least they start the invasion of the western teams in the east and before the invasion is finished the field may be scattered out from under the blanket that has covered it through much of the current race.

Whether the Giants are a mile in front or crawling on disabled limbs far in the rear, the opinion of John McGraw is worth something. He believes the small advantage the three leading western teams hold will be overcome by the schedule which forces them to play almost three quarters of their remaining games away from home.

This, he figures, will be a tremendous handicap for the Reds who are not generally celebrated for their success away from home, although it will not be such a disadvantage to keep the Cardinals away from the torrid St. Louis field. The Cardinals were very successful on their last eastern trip but the Reds had a very painful journey and their stay at home was not valuable.

Though not a very long one, McGraw still insists he has a chance at the pennant.

LOSES STRUGGLE TO HOLD LIFE

Anton Nelsa in Grim Fight Against Disease Succumbs at Nisswa Thursday

FUNERAL HELD SATURDAY

Strange Funeral Cortege Witnessed; Friends Did Not Forget Him in Last Rites

Saturday afternoon Nisswa sympathized for a kind departed soul as it saw a strange funeral cortege wind its way from an old little house to the Nisswa cemetery.

The services were the last rituals of Anton Nelsa, aged 44 years old, who succumbed to the ravages of a deadly disease which he had been fighting for the past eight months in his little house in Nisswa. He had recently been taken to the Deerwood sanatorium where the ebb of life went out.

The service was one of truest loyalty to a friend. There were no relatives present, nor where there any who could be summoned.

But it nevertheless carried that feeling of loneliness by friends, one of their dear ones to pass into the world beyond.

From somewhere no one knows, Anton Nelsa came to Nisswa eight months ago with a racking cough. He said cheerfully he had contracted it in his operations in the woods. His cheerful mood in the last eight months of his life made for him many friends. He fought the disease with a grin until he finally became too ill to live by himself in his little house. He passed away last Thursday.

His friends were the only ones in attendance at the funeral and a large number of floral offerings were received. Money was subscribed for a grave in the cemetery.

The town people asked Rev. A. G. Patterson, pastor of the First Presbyterian church to come up and officiate at the services.

Nisswa mourned the passing of this middle aged man. He was without a home, alone in the world, a sport to the word who took the grim defeat of death with a smile.

St. Francis Guild

The St. Francis Guild will hold its regular meeting at the O'Brien cottage on Clearwater Lake Wednesday afternoon, July 28. All the ladies with cars are asked to meet at the church at 1:30 o'clock. Everyone is requested to bring a plate, cup, fork and spoon. The ladies entertaining are Mesdames Con O'Brien, Jay O'Brien, Neil O'Brien, Earl O'Brien, Bert O'Brien, Harry O'Brien and Ezra R. Smith. In case of rain the meeting will be postponed until Thursday.

EXAMINATIONS HELD

Common Schools Subjects For Teachers at Court House Today

Examinations for common schools in the county are being held today at the court house under the supervision of Mrs. Irma Camp Hartley, county superintendent of schools. This doubtless will be the last year for the taking of such examinations as the number of examinees have dropped from 50 to 60 entrants to the two that are writing today. Normal training departments and teachers colleges have proven much more popular and their training and methods are also of much more benefit to prospective teachers.

NEW RECRUIT FOR NAVY

St. Cloud Man Joins; 20 From Brainerd Territory Now in Service

Donald L. Garlock, St. Cloud, is one of the latest recruits of the U. S. Navy. He was obtained as the result of the local Navy recruiter's recent tour of that territory. Mr. Garlock was sent to Minneapolis for the final examination, which he passed, enlisted, and was sent to the Great Lakes, Ill., for his two months training.

There are now approximately 20 men from Brainerd in the United States Navy. These men are all making a great reputation for their home city and several of them are now commissioned and non commissioned officers.

Lighting Dark Corner

By placing a small oval mirror in a dark corner it will catch the light and reflect it. This at once makes the corner brighter and more attractive. The mirror can also be used as a decoration, particularly if it is ornamented with a flower design, either frosted or painted, and is attached to the wall with glass rosettes.

Mental Insurance

The aim of reading is gradually to create an ideal life, a sort of secret precious life, a refuge, a solace, an eternal source of inspiration, in the soul of the reader. All habitual, impassioned readers are aware of this secret life within them due to books; it brings about a feeling of security amid the insecurities of the world; it is like an insurance policy, a sound balance at the bank, a lifeboat in a rough sea. —Arnold Bennett.

TO GIVE TWO LECTURES

Dr. W. B. Riley, Noted Lecturer, Speaks in Gregory Park Tonight

Dr. W. B. Riley, whose series of Bible conferences and lectures have attracted record crowds through the state, will be in Brainerd for two lectures, tonight and tomorrow night at 8 o'clock. He will give his first lecture in Gregory park from the bandstand, and his second in the auditorium of the First Baptist church on the corner of Sixth and Juniper streets. He has recently held conferences in Duluth, Bemidji, Detroit, Pergus Falls, and a number of other points through the state.

The subject of Dr. Riley's lecture tonight will be, "Evolution, or Is Man a Developed Monkey." His years of deep and intensive study of biology, embryology, geology, archeology, and kindred subjects make him capable of treating this theme in the way which it deserves, yet his contact with the public in his years of preaching gives him the added faculty of speaking to the public in a vitally interesting way. Those who hear him this evening will be delighted with his clear presentation of this subject.

The subject of his lecture tomorrow evening will be: "The Scientific Accuracy of the Sacred Scriptures." As a defender of the faith, he stands in the first rank. Believing the Bible to be the fully inspired Word of God, he knows why he believes it to be such, and is fully able to present abundant scientific confirmation of its truth.

All are invited to attend these lectures. Seats will be provided in the park as far as possible.

20,000 FT. SNOW FENCE RECEIVED

Will be Used by the State Highway Department Here to Protect Roads in Winter

FENCING TOTALS 35,000 FEET

15,000 Lineal Feet Fencing Placed Along Sides of Roadways Last Year

Although winter seems a long way off these nice days, the State Highway Department are already making plans for the protection of state highways in this district from the snow.

Yesterday 20,000 lineal feet of snow fencing was unloaded by State Highway Department men, according to A. W. Moulster, superintendent of State Highways here. This fencing will be placed along the sides of the road to prevent the snow from drifting on to the roads and tying up winter traffic.

The department here now has 35,000 lineal feet of snow fencing on hand, 15,000 feet having been in use last winter. The fencing will be stored away until the winter. State Highways No. 2, 18, 19, and 27 will be furnished with snow fencing.

JERICHO OUTING ATTRACTS MANY

Estimate of Number in Attendance Placed from 1,500 to 2,500 People

BIG OUTING ENJOYED

Odd Fellows Gathered From All Parts of Central Minnesota for Year's Big Event

With ideal weather, Odd Fellows, their families, and friends from all over Central Minnesota turned out in grand style to the Jericho outing Sunday at Riches Point on Gull Lake and acclaimed the day the best ever in the annals of Odd Fellows outings.

Estimates of the number in attendance at the outing are varied, figures being placed from 1,500 to 2,500, by O. J. Bouma, of the picnic arrangements committee.

Members from the following places besides Brainerd registered at the pavilion: Aitkin, Anoka, Akeley, Backus, Bemidji, Crosby, Hewitt, Hubbard, Hibbing, Ironton, Little Falls, Motley, Onamia, Pillager, Palisade, Pine River, Park Rapids, Remer, Randall, Staples, Walker, Wadena and visitors from Winoago, Iron Mountain, Mich., Fulton, Ill., Marietta, Minn., registered at the pavilion.

Ironton won the prize for largest percentage of members present having seventy out of a total membership of seventy-nine.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Moilanen were in charge of the coffee stand, made, and served ninety gallons of coffee. Dan Chord, E. H. Luerke, G. H. storm of Ironton were the parking committee, and were kept busy until after 2 o'clock. Ray Fredstrom, Chas Rice and Roy Kuhmichel, the sports committee, found that they were crowded for time and had to cut their program of races and contests short.

The horse shoe tournament in charge of M. E. Morrison attracted a large number, the following being the winners: Dell Strong of Motley, 1st; Jay Avery, Brainerd 2nd.

Three ball games were played, Pine River vs. Little Falls, score being 1 to 0 for Pine River; Crosby-Ironton vs. Brainerd, Brainerd winning. The winners of these games played and Brainerd won. COTTON PICKERS COMING HERE

To Play For U. C. T. Dance to be Staged Friday Evening at Lum Park

COLORED ORCHESTRA TO PLAY

Leon Lewis' Orchestra Attained Fame on the Orpheum Circuit Last Season

On Friday, July 30, the United Commercial Travelers of Brainerd will give another of their popular dances at Lum park.

For this dance they have secured the famous Leon Lewis and his ten Cotton Pickers, America's premier colored orchestra which just closed a successful season on the Orpheum theatre circuit and are making a short tour before resuming their work on the same circuit. The instrumentation of the orchestra include piano, drums, banjo, three saxophones, two trumpets, trombone, and a sousaphone.

Leon Lewis, the director of the orchestra is considered one of the champion Charleston dancers and will entertain during the dance with the Charleston, buck and wing, eccentric and waltz clog dances, as well as singing some of the popular blue songs as only a negro can sing them.

It is many years since a colored orchestra has appeared in Brainerd and the U. C. T. have gone to considerable expense to bring this orchestra to Brainerd as the committee felt that only the best orchestra possible to secure would be asked to play for a U. C. T. dance. The negro seems to be a natural born musician, especially of jazz and waltz interpretations.

Large crowds have attended wherever this orchestra has played.

LOSES STRUGGLE TO HOLD LIFE

Anton Nelson in Grim Fight Against Disease Succumbs at Nisswa Thursday

FUNERAL HELD SATURDAY

Strange Funeral Cortege Witnessed: Friends Did Not Forget Him in Last Rites

Saturday afternoon Nisswa sympathized for a kind departed soul as it saw a strange funeral cortege wind its way from an old little house to the Nisswa cemetery.

The services were the last rituals of Anton Nelson, aged 44 years old, who succumbed to the ravages of a deadly disease which he had been fighting for the past eight months in his little house in Nisswa. He had recently been taken to the Deerpark sanatorium where the ebb of life went out.

The service was one of truest loyalty to a friend. There were no relatives present, nor where there any who could be summoned. But it nevertheless carried that feeling of loyalty by friends of one of their dear ones to pass into the world beyond.

From somewhere no one knows, Anton Nelson came to Nisswa eight months ago with a racking cough. He said cheerfully he had contracted it in his operations in the woods. His cheerful mood in the last eight months of his life made for him many friends. He fought the disease with a grin until he finally became too ill to live by himself in his little house. He passed away last Thursday.

His friends were the only ones in attendance at the funeral and a large number of floral offerings were received. Money was subscribed for a grave in the cemetery.

The town people asked Rev. A. G. Patterson, pastor of the First Presbyterian church to come up and officiate at the services.

Nisswa mourned the passing of this middle aged man. He was without a home, alone in the world, a sport to the word go who took the grim defeat of death with a smile.

The St. Francis Guild will hold its regular meeting at the O'Brien cottage on Clearwater Lake Wednesday afternoon, July 28. All the ladies with cars are asked to meet at the church at 1:30 o'clock. Everyone is requested to bring a plate, cup, fork and spoon. The ladies entertaining are Mesdames Con O'Brien, Jay O'Brien, Neil O'Brien, Earl O'Brien, Bert O'Brien, Harry O'Brien and Ezra R. Smith. In case of rain the meeting will be postponed until Thursday.

EXAMINATIONS HELD

Common Schools Subjects For Teachers at Court House Today

Examinations for common schools in the county are being held today at the court house under the supervision of Mrs. Irma Camp Hartley, county superintendent of schools. This doubtless will be the last year for the taking of such examinations as the number of examinees have dropped from 50 to 60 entrants to the two that are writing today. Normal training departments and teachers colleges have proven much more popular and their training and methods are also of much more benefit to prospective teachers.

NEW RECRUIT FOR NAVY

St. Cloud Man Joins; 20 From Brainerd Territory Now in Service

Donald L. Garlock, St. Cloud, is one of the latest recruits of the U. S. Navy. He was obtained as the result of the local Navy recruiter's recent tour of that territory. Mr. Garlock was sent to Minneapolis for the final examination, which he passed, enlisted, and was sent to the Great Lakes, Ill., for his two months training.

There are now approximately 20 men from Brainerd in the United States Navy. These men are all making a great reputation for their home city and several of them are now commissioned and non-commissioned officers.

Lighting Dark Corner

By placing a small oval mirror in a dark corner it will catch the light and reflect it. This at once makes the corner brighter and more attractive. The mirror can also be used as a decoration, particularly if it is ornamented with a flower design, either frosted or painted, and is attached to the wall with glass rosettes.

Mental Insurance

The aim of reading is gradually to create an ideal life, a sort of secret precious life, a refuge, a solace, an eternal source of inspiration, in the soul of the reader. All habitual, impressionable readers are aware of this secret life within them due to books; it brings about a feeling of security amid the insecurities of the world; it is like an insurance policy, a sound balance at the bank, a lifeboat in a rough sea. —Arnold Bennett.

TO GIVE TWO LECTURES

Dr. W. B. Riley, Noted Lecturer, Speaks in Gregory Park Tonight

Dr. W. B. Riley, whose series of Bible conferences and lectures have attracted record crowds through the state, will be in Brainerd for two lectures, tonight and tomorrow night at 8 o'clock. He will give his first lecture in Gregory park from the bandstand, and his second in the auditorium of the First Baptist church on the corner of Sixth and Juniper streets. He has recently held conferences in Duluth, Bemidji, Detroit, Fergus Falls, and a number of other points through the state.

The subject of Dr. Riley's lecture tonight will be, "Evolution, or Is Man a Developed Monkey." His years of deep and intensive study of biology, embryology, geology, archeology, and kindred subjects make him capable of treating this theme in the way which it deserves, yet his contact with the public in his years of preaching gives him the added faculty of speaking to the public in a vitally interesting way. Those who hear him this evening will be delighted with his clear presentation of this subject.

The subject of his lecture tomorrow evening will be: "The Scientific Accuracy of the Sacred Scriptures." As a defender of the faith, he stands in the first rank. Believing the Bible to be the fully inspired Word of God, he knows why he believes it to be such, and is fully able to present abundant scientific confirmation of its truth.

All are invited to attend these lectures. Seats will be provided in the park as far as possible.

20,000 FT. SNOW FENCE RECEIVED

Will be Used by the State Highway Department Here to Protect Roads in Winter

FENCING TOTALS 35,000 FEET

15,000 Lineal Feet Fencing Placed Along Sides of Roadways Last Year

Although winter seems a long way off these nice days, the State Highway Department are already making plans for the protection of state highways in this district from the snow.

Yesterday 20,000 lineal feet of snow fencing was unloaded by State Highway Department men, according to A. W. Moulster, superintendent of State Highways here. This fencing will be placed along the sides of the road to prevent the snow from drifting on to the roads and tying up winter traffic.

The department here now has 35,000 lineal feet of snow fencing on hand, 15,000 feet having been in use last winter. The fencing will be stored away until the winter. State Highways No. 2, 18, 19, and 27 will be furnished with snow fencing.

B. A. C. WINS CLOSE GAME FROM SEALS, TAKE 2ND PLACE

SCORE 6 TO 5, EACH TEAM SCORES TWO RUNS IN LAST FRAME

PETERSON AND UDDENBERG SHARE PITCHING FOR WINNERS

Game Tonight
Y. M. C. A. vs. N. E.

The B. A. C. team last night went into second place in second half standings by taking a close game from the Seals, a game that took the last inning to decide, with each team scoring two runs in the last frame.

Peter Peterson and Uddenberg shared the pitching burden for the winners, with both of them effective, being touched for seven hits altogether.

Ringer hit the first home run of the city league, when Hagberg let his long fly drop into the grass in left field, and Ringer made home before the ball could be found.

The game was about the best played for many days, the score being close throughout, and all players being on their toes. The Seals played their best game of the second half, and seem on the road to a comeback.

LENGLEN WILL NOT PLAY AT FOREST HILLS

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, July 27.—All hope of getting Mlle. Suzanne Lenglen, the French tennis queen, to visit the United States this summer and play in the woman's national tennis championship was abandoned when she broke down at Wimbledon.

That hope, it might be remarked in passing, was never any too lively even if she did tell the writer in Paris that she had no objection to playing in the United States and hadn't made up her mind finally about her summer plans after Wimbledon.

There is no doubt that Mlle. Lenglen was ill at Wimbledon and in no condition to play. What brought on her breakdown offers a field for argument but there is no doubt that she couldn't continue. She is, of course, a great actress but all the acting and all the art of theatrical makeup could not make her look as thoroughly worn out as she was at Wimbledon.

While a second visit of Mlle. Lenglen to this country, with the prospect of another battle with Miss Helen Wills, would be the greatest drawing card that could be arranged for Forest Hills, the national woman's championship this year will not be without features.

Mlle. "Katrinka" Bouman, the pretty young Holland champion, told the writer at Wimbledon that she was going to play at Forest Hills and Senorita d'Alvarez, the dazzling young Spanish champion, said she hoped to get over this year. Mrs. Kathlene McKane Godfrey, the British star, also wants to play at Forest Hills but she said the decision would have to be made by "friend husband."

If Senorita d'Alvarez (who pronounces her name delvarey) comes to Forest Hills, American fans will see something that probably will cause them to forget Mlle. Lenglen both as a player and a personality.

She is a strikingly beautiful girl with all the mannerisms and traits of a Spanish girl of the pictures. She is a great showwoman, even more so than Mlle. Lenglen, as she puts herself over without any of the affectation and the forced manner of the French star. She has clothes and wears them like a mannequin and she speaks five languages, all of which she sometimes uses in expressing herself when a shot refuses to follow orders.

As a tennis player she is just as much of a picture. She has the grace and speed of a cat, a dashing smashing style of attack and a pace in her strokes almost as fast as that of Miss Wills.

Many critics, prominent among them being Miss Mary K. Browne, captain of the American team, believe she is certain to develop into a world's champion and some of the gossips around Wimbledon said it was the fear of her that brought on the unfortunate breakdown of the French queen.

"She has the prettiest and best strokes I have ever seen and her forehand is nearer that of Billy Johnston's than any player has in the game," Miss Browne said.

Mlle. Bouman has a lot of personality and good looks but she hasn't the fire, dash and color of the Spanish star, due no doubt to the difference in racial characteristics. Mlle. Bouman is also a great player, one with the virile style of game that appeals so strongly to Americans.

They are without doubt two of the most promising players in the game and Miss Wills has others in her way to a world's championship than Mlle. Lenglen.

Some fear was expressed around Wimbledon that her sudden rise to fame and the glory that is attached to "the belle of Wimbledon" might spoil Senorita d'Alvarez but her friends say she is too level headed to be turned by adulation.

he could hang the defeated sign on the Columbus Senators. The Bucks played airtight ball behind four pitchers, but lost out in the 13th, 5 to 4, when La Motte, Brewer second baseman, singled scoring Brief.

Joe De Berry returned to the hill for the league leading Colonels and had little trouble setting Minneapolis down under a 5 to 2 score. Passes off Hollingsworth, Miller pitcher, assured the leaders of victory.

Toledo made it four straight over Kansas City by taking yesterday's matinee 6 to 3. Three errors by the Blues proved costly and figured in the scoring.

Indianapolis had little trouble with St. Paul, defeating the Saints 8 to 3 behind the masterly curves of Carmen Hill, bespectacled twirler.

The B. A. C. team last night went into second place in second half standings by taking a close game from the Seals, a game that took the last inning to decide, with each team scoring two runs in the inning. Peterson and Uddenberg shared the pitching burden for the winners, with both of them effective, being touched for seven hits altogether.

Ringer hit the first home run of the city league, when Hagberg let his long fly drop into the grass in left field, and Ringer made home before the ball could be found.

The game was about the best played for many days, the score being close throughout, and all players being on their toes. The Seals played their best game of the second half, and seem on the road to a comeback.

Meadow Larks Halt Train

Meadow larks have appeared in the vicinity of Glenwood City in such numbers that the local Soo line freight train was obliged to stop a few miles west of there to avoid running over hundreds of the birds on the track.—Milwaukee Journal.

Natural Iodine In Deep Sea Water

Natural iodine—the right kind of iodine, comes from the sea and there is just enough of it in Ocean-O, the deep sea water blood treatment for those who have simple goitre or thyroid gland trouble.

Besides iodine there are many other natural vital mineral elements in Ocean-O that are easily absorbed into the blood and carry their rich up-building atoms to every organ, gland and tissue in the body, putting new vigor into the human organism and creating abundant strength and vitality in those who are weak, run down, nervous and depressed.

Ocean-O is highly concentrated deep sea water distilled and filtered and the excess common salt removed and as one teaspoonful in a glass of water constitutes a dose a 10-ounce bottle which you can get from the Skauge Drug Co. or any pharmacist anywhere lasts a long time.

Any physician will tell you that deep sea water, has in it every mineral element that is found in pure, healthy blood and that is why Ocean-O is so much in demand by people whose blood needs its alkalinizing influence and especially by those who have eczema or obstinate skin eruptions and rheumatism due to acidity of the blood.

Minneapolis Salesman Surprised at Results

Celebrated Medicine, Karnak Lost No Time In Building Cheirman Back To Health And Strength—"Just Have 'Em See Me About It," He Declares.

"I was certainly surprised at the wonderful work Karnak did in my case, and if anyone is in doubt as to what the medicine will do, why, just have 'em see me about it," declares W. W. Chrelman, of 3425 Ave. S., Minneapolis, Minn., well known salesman in Minneapolis and St. Paul.

"Yes, sir, before I got Karnak my health was rundown generally and I felt weak and tired and just about all in," continues Mr. Chrelman. "I didn't have any appetite either, and most of the time I didn't care whether I ate anything or not."

"I was so restless I couldn't half sleep at night, would just toss around from one side of the bed to the other, and mornings I felt worse than when I went to bed. My system was out of order and I was getting in worse condition right along so I knew I had to do something to relieve myself of this condition."

"When I read what so many people here had to say about Karnak I decided to try this medicine, and do you know, this medicine lost no time in removing my trouble whatever it was. Why, it gave me such a hearty appetite I can hardly wait for meal time to come now, and I've gained weight and have my old time strength and energy back again. Nights I sleep like a top, and I get up mornings feeling fine from head to foot. Believe me, Karnak is some medicine."

Karnak is sold in Brainerd by all good drug stores, and by leading druggists in every town. —Adv.
